

30 years ago, a young Californian saw her destiny in the eye of a Poco Bueno pleasure mare—something stuck. Devon Rose was destined to work her way to the top and prove herself at everything she did along the way. Following in the footsteps of her horse trainer mother, Debbie Fuller, NATIONAL and CANADIAN NATIONAL Champion in addition to being undefeated in STATE competition, this charming young woman raised her two children, worked in outside sales for a fortune 500 company and started the show mom/exhibitor cycle that most of the horse world can embrace and appreciate.

Devon quickly learned that it requires much more than a check book and a horse trailer to win at any level. You not only need a good horse, you need a great team to guide and support you along the journey. This is true for EVERY relationship created and Devon passes this insight and experience, not only to her own now grown children, but to her clients and their children as well.

This theme has carried Devon Rose through proving herself to judges, show staff, endless horse associations...all the way to the feed stores and suppliers for her own training business. Work Hard at something you love, always remembering you need a great team to guide and support you along the journey.

“Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm!”

In knowing Devon, you understand the determination and commitment she has in everything she does. You can ask anyone that has seen her in action, from selling products on the West Coast to delivering horses she has sold across the country, this woman will follow through on her promises and make you happy that you know her at the same time. You just may find yourself eager to join her team in support of her mission: developing GREAT human beings.

APHA & AQHA HALTER & ALL AROUND HORSES

Upon graduating Oxnard College in 1987, Devon initially founded DR Show Horses in Thousand Oaks, CA., moving to Temecula in 1997 and finally packing up her dreams and trailer full of horses and relocating to Smithville, Texas in 2002. Though a native Californian, Devon came from a 6-generation line of Texas roots. Moving to Texas simply felt like coming home.

Not only did Devon return to her roots in Texas, she found her passion within another as well. There she met her husband, Troy Michalik, and the two have lived a horseman's fairytale. Troy, along with Devon, showed their stallion, IR Conclusive at the 2008 World Championship Show and took home Top 5 in the Amateur Halter. A P H A

Devon continues to campaign both her own and client's horses and coach youth and amateur riders to show ring success at events including the San Antonio Stock Show, Houston Livestock Show, AQHA World Championships, APHA World Championships, IBHA Gateway to the World, and the PHBA World Championship Show.

Devon and Troy make their home amongst the beautiful pine trees of Paige, Texas, visited frequently by their young-adult children. Devon and Troy enjoy life on the ranch full of horses, training full time and running the Youth program at the Bastrop Christian Church. Most days you'll find Devon Rose at the ranch training all-around horses, showing and perfecting the balancing act of mother and professional horsewoman. A captivating horse trainer, Devon racks up both road time and the frequent flyer miles, travelling and sharing her experience while assisting other trainers in Oklahoma, California, and North Texas. All the while taking her own advice: work hard at something you love.
